LOCATION

Springfield House is strategically located adjacent to a dedicated roundabout on the A229 Sandling Road approximately half a mile north of Maidstone town centre and with direct dual carriageway access to Junction 6 M20, approximately 1 mile to the north.

Maidstone is the administrative centre and county town of Kent located 37 miles south east of Central London. The M20 motorway runs directly to the north of the town, providing easy access to the Channel Tunnel and Ports, the M25 and the remainder of the national motorway network. Heathrow, Gatwick and Stansted Airports are all within approximately 1 hour's drive of the building. Maidstone has two railway stations providing direct services to London, Victoria and Charing Cross as well as to Ashford International. The town has a highly successful retail centre containing an excellent range of shops, restaurants, cafes and bars.

DESCRIPTION

Springfield House is a prominent detached Grade 2 listed landmark office building, originally built for Richard Balston in 1891 as part of the adjoining paper mill complex. It was designed by Alfred Waterhouse who also designed the Royal Institution of Chartered Surveyors' headquarters in Great George Street, London and Manchester town hall. The property benefits from the following amenities:-

- Central heating with auxiliary boilers
- Ornate plastered ceilings to this suite and atrium
- Tegular suspended ceilings to most areas except second floor
- Motion detecting energy saving lighting to LG7 specification
- Feature lighting to staircases and atrium
- Combination of perimeter trunking and floor boxes
- Provision for data containment Cat 5 cabling
- 8 person passenger lift to first floor
- Unique combination of open plan offices
- Basement vault racked for archive storage
- Period décor & carpeting
- Kitchenette and toilets on each floor
- Use of landscaped garden
- Good level of DDA accessibility
- On-site car parking including 6 visitor spaces
- Simple monthly payment – cost includes heat & power
- Quick access to M20, town centre and mainline station
- Responsive building management
